I like that my school is small that I will know everyone that is graduating with me. I do wish that we had more advanced classes.

Did not feel prepared for college at all. The teacher's are all very nice, but the guidance office and helping towards college do nothing to help those become prepared for college.

The small school atmosphere allowed for a lot of connection between teachers and peers. It created a unique experience with the ability to be involved with many different school activities. If I was able to change something, I would add more AP classes and diverse clubs to our school!

I think my whole high school experience was great. I loved all of my teachers and the custodian/cafeteria staff. I would love to see the school work on bullying just a little bit more. Although there is not a lot of bullying, i think we can always improve to make our school feel even safer.

Most of the teachers at Fairfield Area High School that I've had or met were great to work with and have helped me tremendously. Their teaching styles are usually engaging and involve open discussion with the students. All of the teachers I've had were highly knowledgeable about the topic they were teaching, especially the math, science, and literature teachers. The teachers are able to help students with questions and problems in a way that encouraged learning, rather than just answering a question. The teachers generally take an interest in the students, and are friendly and available for academic assistance. They communicate well with students, and usually answer emails about school questions promptly and helpfully or make time to help. Across the board, teachers grade fairly consistently within their own classes; for example, one teacher might grade things more harshly in all the classes that they teach than another teacher might grade in all their classes. Overall, I like the teachers at Fairfield Area High School, and some of them I'm sad to no longer have classes with.
