Community Reviews for this School

It is a good school but the principle along with the staff do have favorites and will sometimes treat them better or ignore it is the break code.

Hanover high school was a nice close knit community where everyone knew everyone else at least by name , but there needs to be more engagement and involvement with promoting other cultures and diversity among its' students, teachers, faculty, administration, and parents.

I believe that this school does not offer any help with college prep

I had a great time while attending high school. The teachers made the classes fun and easy to follow along. All the different sporting events made it hard to pick which ones to go and watch and or partake in. There was always an event doing something on the weekends, meaning community service and or an event that was held at the school. There was something to always do if you were willing to do thing that you weren't use to doing.

The teachers at Hanover High school always wanted their students to succeed. However, if the student did not show interest in learning then they were not as helpful as they were to other students. They are a tech savvy school and influence teachers to use the laptops to teach the students. Grading was equal through out.
