The teachers were professional and encouraged students to get their work done and to perform to their best abilities.

Kennard-Dale High School is a very welcoming place. Students, teachers, and administrators are always helpful and respectful. The academics are demanding, especially with the honors and advanced classes. If you are having difficulty in a class though, the teachers are more than willing to work with you - you just need to ask. I am planning to go to college after high school and I definitely feel like I will be well-prepared academically. Outside of the classroom, there are a variety of clubs and activities available for students to participate in. There are a lot of clubs that help support diversity and unity which is valuable. There is something for everyone.

The school is racist and sexist and doesn't take care of student needs as well as they should be. Teachers are horrid and students can be worse, especially overpowered seniors that practically run the school. It's okay, the occasional std and flu virus is always welcomed since it's been an ongoing dilemma due to unsanitary students sticking things where the sun doesn't shine. The school is also small and cold all the time. :

The teachers and supervisors truly care about their students. It is a safe learning environment, and made learning fun! I knew I wanted to work with animals ever since my 8th grade science class.

A good school to go to. The music department is excellent, and I doubt I would ever have gotten into district band without the inspiration and encouragement of my band director. My biggest issue with this school is college readiness. I signed a slip asking if I wanted to meet with my guidance counselor around two months ago, but I still have gotten absolutely no response from them yet. Compared to Susquehannock, this school is simply worse in almost every way. There is no way around that. But despite that, I still wouldn't wanna be anywhere else. The student body is something special, and I am very thankful to have gained some close friends at KD.
